

GLOBE-REPUBLIC.

Daily Edition.

Published for the Proprietor by J. D. BERRY, at the Globe-Republic Office, No. 100 N. E. corner of Main and Erie streets, Cleveland, Ohio.

FOR THIS LOCALITY, AS INDICATED BY T. D. BERRY, AT THE GLOBE-REPUBLIC OFFICE.

Time	Temp.	Wind	Weather
6:30 A. M.	74	S. W.	Fair
9:30 A. M.	78	S. W.	Fair
12:30 P. M.	82	S. W.	Fair
3:30 P. M.	82	S. W.	Fair
6:30 P. M.	82	S. W.	Fair

Mean temperature 80°. Temperature same date in 1884, 74 above. Temperature of same date in 1885, 65 above. Temperature of same date in 1886, 77 above zero.

CITY MATTERS.

Warren Leffel left for New York, last evening, via Cleveland.

Tom Rogers, very plain drunk, was locked up last night by Officers Caldwell and Bass.

Dr. Camp II was arrested yesterday afternoon for fast driving and cruelty to animals.

B. F. Seaton, letter carrier No. 6, has returned from a short visit among friends at Massillon, O.

Mrs. S. E. Henderson and her mother, Mrs. Eliza Smedley, left for New York, via Cleveland, yesterday.

Mrs. Marie Elwell and her granddaughter, Miss Sarah Callier, of East Clifton street, left this morning for points West for pleasure and visiting relatives.

Isaac Elliott, a pauper, is lying so ill at the infirmary that he is not expected to live. It was discovered last night that his folks are well-to-do people and live in Hillsborough. They were sent for at once.

The N. Y. P. & O. and I. B. & W. connection through Springfield will result in time, in a through train from Bloomington, Ill., to New York city, a distance of over eleven hundred miles, without change.

Mr. James Boyle, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, came to the city last evening and has been here during the day. He is a pleasant gentleman as well as a very forcible writer and is always welcome here.

Sheriff Johnson, of Greene County, is authority for a good joke on some Dayton Democrats. He says that a number of them prepared applications to be sent to President Cleveland asking for positions in the United States Express Company.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday in the Mayor's court: Christopher Seltzer, violation of the Sunday ordinance, $45 and costs; Pat McKay, disorderly, $1 and costs; Ellen Brennan, drunk and disorderly, $1 and costs; Morris Powers, drunk, $1 and costs; William Clark, violation of the Sunday ordinance, $45 and costs; Harry Hughes, disorderly, $1 and costs; Charles Francis, disorderly, $1 and costs.

In Judge White's decision in the Jam's (Yellow Springs) divorce case, heard at Xenia, he finds that the charges of adultery made by the plaintiff and defendant, are not sustained by the evidence. He finds that the charge of cruelty of James towards his wife are sustained, and that she is entitled to a divorce and alimony on that ground. A decree of divorce is granted Mrs. James accordingly, and allowance of $600 alimony. Custody of the boy is given to the defendant, except for a stipulated portion of each year.

Chief Harner, of Xenia, captured yesterday a colored man named James Buford having in his possession a lot of clothing identified as that of recently stolen from Allison & Strauss' store at Xenia. During the chase he threw away a chisel which was found to fit exactly marks on the door of the store made by the burglar in prying it open. The statement is made that Buford has "done time" at Columbus for a like offense, being sent up from this city. It is so it must have been under another name. This party is not to be confounded with our James Buford, the builder, who has lived here respectably for many years.

Gaiety on the North Side.

Last evening Miss Chastity gave one of the most thoroughly delightful dancing parties that has been given this season, at her elegant home on North Limestone street. A very congenial company of fifteen couples enjoyed her hospitality, and nothing was wanting to make the affair an eminent social success. Those present were: Miss Mitchell, of Winona, Minn.; Miss Helen Morgan, of Cincinnati; Miss Aquereone, Miss Carrie Douglas, Miss Anna Baldwin, Miss Hattie Bushnell, Miss Lizzie Steele, Miss Louise Baldwin, Miss Mary Rodgers, Miss Anna Rabbitz, Miss Anna Paige, Miss Darlie Bowman, Miss Anna Bishop, Messrs. Will Rabbitz, Will Thomas, Tom Simpson, Mr. Thompson, Chase Stewart, Den. Rodgers, Frank Bartholomew, Ed. Harris, Will Rodgers, Henry Wiseman, Ralph Bartholomew, Ad. Rodgers, Dr. Dimond, Will Kidder and Russell Seeds.

Political Pickups.

Chas. L. Bogle, Esq., is mentioned as a candidate for the Republican nomination as Prosecuting Attorney.

The prohibition brething and sistering ought to fix it among themselves as to extent of their claims. One you meet would be content with 25,000 votes in the State, another rises to 50,000 and a third to 80,000. Here and there you will strike one with a sublimity of gall equal to claiming Leonard's election.

The committee of fifteen to prepare a plan for choosing delegates to the Republican Convention, will be reported to the Central Committee, to meet in Geo. C. Rawlin's law office, corner Main and Limestone streets, to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. The Central Committee will meet at 2 o'clock the same afternoon to hear and act upon the report.

Apart from such aid and comfort as they can give their assistants of the Third Party, the local Democracy are remarkably quiet, waiting the moving of the waters at Columbus. A Glens-Rivera representative, who was in Columbus last night, was told that the Democratic State Convention would probably be held early in or about the middle of August, in the Park Hotel, that city. Indications point to the re-nomination of Gov. Hildy.

Best Treatment for Diphtheria.

The patient absolutely requires extraordinary nutrition and gentle stimulation to resist and overcome the slow fever that consumes the strength and also counteracts the deadly growth of fatal fungus in the vital passages. Immediate use of Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for the blood, with their tonic and nutritive properties, will produce wonderful results, when the patient is properly treated. The case of failure has never been known. Protect the patient from exposure and harmful excitement, but stick tenaciously to the remedy until recovery is complete. All reliable grocers and druggists will supply it.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

Remains in the Springfield (Ohio) Post-office, July 6, 1885.

Ames, J. W.
Andrews, G. B.
Alexander, J. Thos.
Baker, David
Burr, Fred
Bell, James W.
Bell, Mrs. Prudence
Brooks, S. M.
Baker & Co.
Currence, H. C.
Clark, Johnnie
Clark, E. W.
Callison, George A.
DeHaven, Mrs. M. J.
Dodson, Arza
Douglas, Miss Flora
Dines, Edward
Daugherty, Harvey
Elliott, Miss Alice R.
Elliott, Miss Alice R.
Frey, Francis Ed.
Howard, Rebecca
Howard, Miss Emma F.
Hunt, Miss Jennie
Harris, Miss M. M.
Hank, Samuel
Judy, Joseph
Johnson, Ashley M.
Krone, John
Kiser, Mrs. Mary

Warren Leffel left for New York, last evening, via Cleveland.

Tom Rogers, very plain drunk, was locked up last night by Officers Caldwell and Bass.

Dr. Camp II was arrested yesterday afternoon for fast driving and cruelty to animals.

B. F. Seaton, letter carrier No. 6, has returned from a short visit among friends at Massillon, O.

Mrs. S. E. Henderson and her mother, Mrs. Eliza Smedley, left for New York, via Cleveland, yesterday.

Mrs. Marie Elwell and her granddaughter, Miss Sarah Callier, of East Clifton street, left this morning for points West for pleasure and visiting relatives.

Isaac Elliott, a pauper, is lying so ill at the infirmary that he is not expected to live. It was discovered last night that his folks are well-to-do people and live in Hillsborough. They were sent for at once.

The N. Y. P. & O. and I. B. & W. connection through Springfield will result in time, in a through train from Bloomington, Ill., to New York city, a distance of over eleven hundred miles, without change.

Mr. James Boyle, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, came to the city last evening and has been here during the day. He is a pleasant gentleman as well as a very forcible writer and is always welcome here.

Sheriff Johnson, of Greene County, is authority for a good joke on some Dayton Democrats. He says that a number of them prepared applications to be sent to President Cleveland asking for positions in the United States Express Company.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday in the Mayor's court: Christopher Seltzer, violation of the Sunday ordinance, $45 and costs; Pat McKay, disorderly, $1 and costs; Ellen Brennan, drunk and disorderly, $1 and costs; Morris Powers, drunk, $1 and costs; William Clark, violation of the Sunday ordinance, $45 and costs; Harry Hughes, disorderly, $1 and costs; Charles Francis, disorderly, $1 and costs.

In Judge White's decision in the Jam's (Yellow Springs) divorce case, heard at Xenia, he finds that the charges of adultery made by the plaintiff and defendant, are not sustained by the evidence. He finds that the charge of cruelty of James towards his wife are sustained, and that she is entitled to a divorce and alimony on that ground. A decree of divorce is granted Mrs. James accordingly, and allowance of $600 alimony. Custody of the boy is given to the defendant, except for a stipulated portion of each year.

Chief Harner, of Xenia, captured yesterday a colored man named James Buford having in his possession a lot of clothing identified as that of recently stolen from Allison & Strauss' store at Xenia. During the chase he threw away a chisel which was found to fit exactly marks on the door of the store made by the burglar in prying it open. The statement is made that Buford has "done time" at Columbus for a like offense, being sent up from this city. It is so it must have been under another name. This party is not to be confounded with our James Buford, the builder, who has lived here respectably for many years.

Gaiety on the North Side.

Last evening Miss Chastity gave one of the most thoroughly delightful dancing parties that has been given this season, at her elegant home on North Limestone street. A very congenial company of fifteen couples enjoyed her hospitality, and nothing was wanting to make the affair an eminent social success. Those present were: Miss Mitchell, of Winona, Minn.; Miss Helen Morgan, of Cincinnati; Miss Aquereone, Miss Carrie Douglas, Miss Anna Baldwin, Miss Hattie Bushnell, Miss Lizzie Steele, Miss Louise Baldwin, Miss Mary Rodgers, Miss Anna Rabbitz, Miss Anna Paige, Miss Darlie Bowman, Miss Anna Bishop, Messrs. Will Rabbitz, Will Thomas, Tom Simpson, Mr. Thompson, Chase Stewart, Den. Rodgers, Frank Bartholomew, Ed. Harris, Will Rodgers, Henry Wiseman, Ralph Bartholomew, Ad. Rodgers, Dr. Dimond, Will Kidder and Russell Seeds.

Political Pickups.

Chas. L. Bogle, Esq., is mentioned as a candidate for the Republican nomination as Prosecuting Attorney.

The prohibition brething and sistering ought to fix it among themselves as to extent of their claims. One you meet would be content with 25,000 votes in the State, another rises to 50,000 and a third to 80,000. Here and there you will strike one with a sublimity of gall equal to claiming Leonard's election.

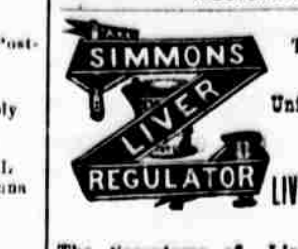

The committee of fifteen to prepare a plan for choosing delegates to the Republican Convention, will be reported to the Central Committee, to meet in Geo. C. Rawlin's law office, corner Main and Limestone streets, to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. The Central Committee will meet at 2 o'clock the same afternoon to hear and act upon the report.

Apart from such aid and comfort as they can give their assistants of the Third Party, the local Democracy are remarkably quiet, waiting the moving of the waters at Columbus. A Glens-Rivera representative, who was in Columbus last night, was told that the Democratic State Convention would probably be held early in or about the middle of August, in the Park Hotel, that city. Indications point to the re-nomination of Gov. Hildy.

Best Treatment for Diphtheria.

The patient absolutely requires extraordinary nutrition and gentle stimulation to resist and overcome the slow fever that consumes the strength and also counteracts the deadly growth of fatal fungus in the vital passages. Immediate use of Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for the blood, with their tonic and nutritive properties, will produce wonderful results, when the patient is properly treated. The case of failure has never been known. Protect the patient from exposure and harmful excitement, but stick tenaciously to the remedy until recovery is complete. All reliable grocers and druggists will supply it.

MEDICINAL.

THE GREAT
LIVER COMPLAINT.

Unfailing Specific
FOR
LIVER COMPLAINT.

The Symptoms of Liver Complaint

are uneasiness and pain in the side, sometimes pain in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism; the stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; bowels, in general, costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain and dull, heavy feeling; the eyes are inflamed; the skin is covered with eruptions; the urine is dark and loaded with bile; the breath is fetid; the tongue is coated with a yellowish film; the patient is generally very nervous and irritable.

REGULATE THE LIVER AND PREVENT
Dyspepsia, Constipation, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Cholic and Pains, Head-ache, Colic, Depression of Spirits, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Piles, etc.

Tonic, Alterative and Cathartic!
Simmons' Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is the medicine generally used in the South to rouse the torpid Liver to healthy action.

It acts with extraordinary power and efficiency on the Liver and Kidneys!

The action of the Regulator is free from nausea or griping. It is most effective in the treatment of the Liver, causing the bile to act as a cathartic. When there is an excess of bile in the system, the Regulator is an active purgative, and the removal of the bile will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system. See that you get the Genuine in White Wrapper, with red X, prepared only by J. H. Zeller & Co., sold by all druggists.

blow up Saint Paul's tank strike Paragade Lost from the treasures of the English language.

How much a great work cost! What fortune strains of blood have gone for the formation of that delicate yet potent brain tissue! What happy influences have met for the development of its marvelous capacities! What travail, what throbbing temples, what conflicts, what hopes, what illusions, what disappointments, what triumphs, are recorded between the covers of that volume on the bookseller's counter! And shall the work which drained its author's life-blood be the prey of the first vampire that chooses to flap his penny-edition wings over his unprotected and hapless victim?

This is the wrong we would put an end to. The British author, whose stolen works are in the hands of the vast American reading public, may possibly receive a small pension if he comes to want in his old age. But the bread of even public charity is apt to have a bitter taste, and this is at best but a small one. Shall not our English-writing brother have his fair day's wage for his fair day's work in furnishing us with instruction and entertainment?

As to the poor American author, no pension will ever keep him from dying in the poorhouse. His books may be on every shelf in Europe, in their own or in foreign tongues, but his only compensation is the free-will offering of some liberal-minded publisher.

This should not be so. We all know it, and some among us have felt it, and still feel it as a great wrong. I think especially of those who are in the flower of their productive period, and those who are just coming into their time of indolence. To us who are too far advanced to profit by any provision for justice likely to be made in our day, it would still be a great satisfaction to know that the writers who come after will be fairly treated, and that genius will no longer be an outlaw as soon as it crosses the Atlantic.

Believe me, dear Mr. Lathrop, Very truly yours,
OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.
GEORGE P. LATHROP, Sec'y, etc.
From The Century for July.

Not Cupid's Court.

Miss May Abbott was a vision of beauty, clothed in blue and gold and laughter. The red facings down the front of her dress were no brighter than the flash of indignation on her cheeks. Beside her trembled Arthur Lottia, with a cigarette face and very tight clothes. It was in the Harlem police court yesterday morning.

"Have I got to be annoyed by this little puppy all the time?" demanded Miss Abbott of Justice Power.

"How does he annoy you?"

"Why, he keeps following me and forever saying, 'Ah, there!' I've got sick of it."

"Of the 'Ah, there!' If he would only say something else I wouldn't care so much. But he never does, and it's been over a month now since he begun it."

"I was going to say something else when I got a good chance," interposed Mr. Lottia.

"Has she ever said anything to you?"

"Yes, sir; she called me a giddy boy."

"Oh, I see; you were not bold enough to suit her. This is not Cupid's court. Discharged."—New York Herald.

Agreeable Ignorance.

It is a dreadful thing to be out of the fashion. When Longfellow translated the "Divina Commedia" every one was obliged to admire it, and at once a knowledge of Dante became imperative. A good story is told of a stranger arriving in Boston to whom a friend, a native of the city, at once put the pertinent inquiry:

"Do you like Dante?"

"No," was the answer. "I do not know him; who is he?"

"Come," said his delighted friend, "keep me in countenance. It isn't respectable not to like Dante. I'm the only man in Massachusetts who doesn't. I detest his very name. Let's have a glass of wine together."

This reminds us of the young English woman whose partner for the Lancers inquired about the acts:

"How do you like Longfellow?"

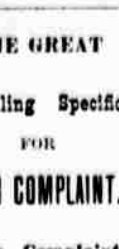

"Oh!" said she innocently, "I never was there. Is it a pretty place?"—New York Mail and Express.

LOCAL NOTICES.

The Famous Kissing Case.

This was to decide whether a girl who had been married in fun was really the wife of the youth with whom she had stood up to perform the mock marriage. Several hundred pages of testimony were taken, and the justice spent more in having it copied than he received for his fees. The whole thing, which began in joke, proved at last a very serious business. It is serious business to take a human system runs down, down, down, until life has no charms and the grave seems a blessing. In this state of affairs, take Brown's Iron Bitters, and be lifted into life and hope and strength.

THE GREAT

Unfailing Specific
FOR
LIVER COMPLAINT.

The Symptoms of Liver Complaint

are uneasiness and pain in the side, sometimes pain in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism; the stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; bowels, in general, costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain and dull, heavy feeling; the eyes are inflamed; the skin is covered with eruptions; the urine is dark and loaded with bile; the breath is fetid; the tongue is coated with a yellowish film; the patient is generally very nervous and irritable.

REGULATE THE LIVER AND PREVENT
Dyspepsia, Constipation, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Cholic and Pains, Head-ache, Colic, Depression of Spirits, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Piles, etc.

Tonic, Alterative and Cathartic!
Simmons' Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is the medicine generally used in the South to rouse the torpid Liver to healthy action.

It acts with extraordinary power and efficiency on the Liver and Kidneys!

The action of the Regulator is free from nausea or griping. It is most effective in the treatment of the Liver, causing the bile to act as a cathartic. When there is an excess of bile in the system, the Regulator is an active purgative, and the removal of the bile will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system. See that you get the Genuine in White Wrapper, with red X, prepared only by J. H. Zeller & Co., sold by all druggists.

blow up Saint Paul's tank strike Paragade Lost from the treasures of the English language.

How much a great work cost! What fortune strains of blood have gone for the formation of that delicate yet potent brain tissue! What happy influences have met for the development of its marvelous capacities! What travail, what throbbing temples, what conflicts, what hopes, what illusions, what disappointments, what triumphs, are recorded between the covers of that volume on the bookseller's counter! And shall the work which drained its author's life-blood be the prey of the first vampire that chooses to flap his penny-edition wings over his unprotected and hapless victim?

This is the wrong we would put an end to. The British author, whose stolen works are in the hands of the vast American reading public, may possibly receive a small pension if he comes to want in his old age. But the bread of even public charity is apt to have a bitter taste, and this is at best but a small one. Shall not our English-writing brother have his fair day's wage for his fair day's work in furnishing us with instruction and entertainment?

As to the poor American author, no pension will ever keep him from dying in the poorhouse. His books may be on every shelf in Europe, in their own or in foreign tongues, but his only compensation is the free-will offering of some liberal-minded publisher.

This should not be so. We all know it, and some among us have felt it, and still feel it as a great wrong. I think especially of those who are in the flower of their productive period, and those who are just coming into their time of indolence. To us who are too far advanced to profit by any provision for justice likely to be made in our day, it would still be a great satisfaction to know that the writers who come after will be fairly treated, and that genius will no longer be an outlaw as soon as it crosses the Atlantic.

Believe me, dear Mr. Lathrop, Very truly yours,
OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.
GEORGE P. LATHROP, Sec'y, etc.
From The Century for July.

Not Cupid's Court.

Miss May Abbott was a vision of beauty, clothed in blue and gold and laughter. The red facings down the front of her dress were no brighter than the flash of indignation on her cheeks. Beside her trembled Arthur Lottia, with a cigarette face and very tight clothes. It was in the Harlem police court yesterday morning.

"Have I got to be annoyed by this little puppy all the time?" demanded Miss Abbott of Justice Power.

"How does he annoy you?"

"Why, he keeps following me and forever saying, 'Ah, there!' I've got sick of it."

"Of the 'Ah, there!' If he would only say something else I wouldn't care so much. But he never does, and it's been over a month now since he begun it."

"I was going to say something else when I got a good chance," interposed Mr. Lottia.

"Has she ever said anything to you?"

"Yes, sir; she called me a giddy boy."

"Oh, I see; you were not bold enough to suit her. This is not Cupid's court. Discharged."—New York Herald.

Agreeable Ignorance.

It is a dreadful thing to be out of the fashion. When Longfellow translated the "Divina Commedia" every one was obliged to admire it, and at once a knowledge of Dante became imperative. A good story is told of a stranger arriving in Boston to whom a friend, a native of the city, at once put the pertinent inquiry:

"Do you like Dante?"

"No," was the answer. "I do not know him; who is he?"

"Come," said his delighted friend, "keep me in countenance. It isn't respectable not to like Dante. I'm the only man in Massachusetts who doesn't. I detest his very name. Let's have a glass of wine together."

This reminds us of the young English woman whose partner for the Lancers inquired about the acts:

"How do you like Longfellow?"

"Oh!" said she innocently, "I never was there. Is it a pretty place?"—New York Mail and Express.

LOCAL NOTICES.

The Famous Kissing Case.

This was to decide whether a girl who had been married in fun was really the wife of the youth with whom she had stood up to perform the mock marriage. Several hundred pages of testimony were taken, and the justice spent more in having it copied than he received for his fees. The whole thing, which began in joke, proved at last a very serious business. It is serious business to take a human system runs down, down, down, until life has no charms and the grave seems a blessing. In this state of affairs, take Brown's Iron Bitters, and be lifted into life and hope and strength.

DRY GOODS & CARPETS.

Unfailing Specific
FOR
LIVER COMPLAINT.

The Symptoms of Liver Complaint

are uneasiness and pain in the side, sometimes pain in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism; the stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; bowels, in general, costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain and dull, heavy feeling; the eyes are inflamed; the skin is covered with eruptions; the urine is dark and loaded with bile; the breath is fetid; the tongue is coated with a yellowish film; the patient is generally very nervous and irritable.

REGULATE THE LIVER AND PREVENT
Dyspepsia, Constipation, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Cholic and Pains, Head-ache, Colic, Depression of Spirits, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Piles, etc.

Tonic, Alterative and Cathartic!
Simmons' Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is the medicine generally used in the South to rouse the torpid Liver to healthy action.

It acts with extraordinary power and efficiency on the Liver and Kidneys!

The action of the Regulator is free from nausea or griping. It is most effective in the treatment of the Liver, causing the bile to act as a cathartic. When there is an excess of bile in the system, the Regulator is an active purgative, and the removal of the bile will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system. See that you get the Genuine in White Wrapper, with red X, prepared only by J. H. Zeller & Co., sold by all druggists.

blow up Saint Paul's tank strike Paragade Lost from the treasures of the English language.

How much a great work cost! What fortune strains of blood have gone for the formation of that delicate yet potent brain tissue! What happy influences have met for the development of its marvelous capacities! What travail, what throbbing temples, what conflicts, what hopes, what illusions, what disappointments, what triumphs, are recorded between the covers of that volume on the bookseller's counter! And shall the work which drained its author's life-blood be the prey of the first vampire that chooses to flap his penny-edition wings over his unprotected and hapless victim?

This is the wrong we would put an end to. The British author, whose stolen works are in the hands of the vast American reading public, may possibly receive a small pension if he comes to want in his old age. But the bread of even public charity is apt to have a bitter taste, and this is at best but a small one. Shall not our English-writing brother have his fair day's wage for his fair day's work in furnishing us with instruction and entertainment?

As to the poor American author, no pension will ever keep him from dying in the poorhouse. His books may be on every shelf in Europe, in their own or in foreign tongues, but his only compensation is the free-will offering of some liberal-minded publisher.

This should not be so. We all know it, and some among us have felt it, and still feel it as a great wrong. I think especially of those who are in the flower of their productive period, and those who are just coming into their time of indolence. To us who are too far advanced to profit by any provision for justice likely to be made in our day, it would still be a great satisfaction to know that the writers who come after will be fairly treated, and that genius will no longer be an outlaw as soon as it crosses the Atlantic.

Believe me, dear Mr. Lathrop, Very truly yours,
OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.
GEORGE P. LATHROP, Sec'y, etc.
From The Century for July.

Not Cupid's Court.

Miss May Abbott was a vision of beauty, clothed in blue and gold and laughter. The red facings down the front of her dress were no brighter than the flash of indignation on her cheeks. Beside her trembled Arthur Lottia, with a cigarette face and very tight clothes. It was in the Harlem police court yesterday morning.

"Have I got to be annoyed by this little puppy all the time?" demanded Miss Abbott of Justice Power.

"How does he annoy you?"

"Why, he keeps following me and forever saying, 'Ah, there!' I've got sick of it."

"Of the 'Ah, there!' If he